

Namen schlagen

What you need:

- at least 10 players
- a chair or pillow per person
- one poster

The Game:

The participants sit in a circle on their chairs/their pillows. One person stand in the center and holds the rolled poster up. Anybody shouts the name of someone in the circle. The task of the person in the center is now to “hit” (on the knee!) the called out person as fast as he can.

The called out person has the chance to avoid being hit, by shouting out another name. If he got hit, he has to get up in the middle and has the same task as the person before. The one who came from the center has the right to begin with a new name.

This game could be played endlessly, but as a recommendation are 10 minutes envisaged. (It depends on the group.)
