

Möhrenziehen

What you need:

- 6 – 30 persons

The Game:

All participants are lying circular on one's stomach on the floor. The gardener tries to pull out the carrots (the people on the floor) by their feet. To avoid being pulled out, the carrots are holding each other hands and have the task to protect each other through that. If a carrot gets pulled out, the other players budge up so that they close the circle.

The two carrots left win the game.
